Magnolia Moving
Away From Millwood
Pipeline for Water

When this editor went to Washington in the 1950s and made the initial appeal to include reserves for municipal, industrial, and agricultural water in the then pending plans for Millwood Reservoir—a plan subsequently enacted by the Congress—it was generally expected the water-short cities of Southwest Arkansas would unite in building a pipeline to Millwood.

But Texarkana looked elsewhere—and now Magnolia is making noises about building a dam close to home.

A meeting has been called in the Columbia county-seat town for 7 p.m. March 30 in the junior high school auditorium to discuss a dam on Dorcheat Bayou. The proposed structure would create a 17,500-acre reservoir that could be expected to produce 80 million gallons a day.

This project in its own county, under discussion for several years, explains why Magnolia is cool to Hope's offer to join hands in building a pipeline to Millwood Reservoir.

The U.S. Corps of Engineers can't help Hope in this matter. Their obligation never extended to pipeline construction—it ended when Millwood was completed. As a matter of fact, the Corps now is working with Magnolia on the Dorcheat Bayou project. Col. Herbert Haar, district engineer in charge of the New Orleans district of the Corps, will be the principal speaker at Magnolia March 30.

The conclusion is obvious: If there's to be a pipeline from Millwood Reservoir it will probably be up to Hope to build it alone.

I still think the pipeline will eventually be built. It's a necessity if our city expects any substantial growth—for an unlimited supply of good water is a prime requisite not only for population but industry also, not to mention the likelihood of irrigation for farming.

Meanwhile it behooves us to have some observers on hand at that Magnolia meeting March 30. We need to know the facts about Dorcheat Bayou—in case Magnolia should change its mind and once again look toward Millwood. It always helps make a deal possible if both parties are fully informed.

Decision on Welfare Plan Said Near

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Ways and Means Committee is nearing a decision on legislation that would relieve states of much of their welfare costs and institute a modified version of President Nixon's family assistance plan.

The crucial question of how much support to be provided needy families remains unsettled after weeks of closed door meetings.

It appeared likely, however, the yearly floor of federal support would be set at not less than $2,200 for a family of four, with a provision for additional matching funds to states providing more than the minimum.

This would represent a compromise solution to the problem of regional cost-of-living differences.

The original Nixon proposal last year was for a $1,600 yearly cash support for a family, supplemented by food stamps valued at about $860. The plan now shaping up substitutes cash for the food stamps.

Even at what is considered the minimum $2,200 level, committee sources said, the new plan would represent at least some saving in welfare costs for states participating in the federal matching fund program.

The committee was reported nearer agreement on a complete federal takeover of the welfare programs that now pay benefits to about 2 million aged persons, 81,000 blind and 918,000 disabled adults.

City Favors Professional Appraiser

The City Board of Directors, at their regular meeting Tuesday night, passed the ordinance changing the health program fees for both residential and business customers. The ordinance also requires that a sinking fund be established and added to each month to provide money for replacement of equipment now in use or necessary to purchase in the future. The sinking fund will be reviewed periodically by the board to make any changes necessary in it to assure that sufficient funds will be available when needed.

The Bids by J. A. Riggs Tractor Company, which were low, on the new Backhoe and Tractor-Loader for the Health Department were reviewed and accepted. The bid was $59,000 for the two pieces of equipment with the trade-in of the old city equipment. The new equipment will be delivered within 30 days.

An ordinance was passed condemning six structures which were referred to the City Board by the Citizens Advisory Committee. All of the structures were in very bad condition and the owners had been contacted by the city building inspector. In some cases, the buildings are already being removed by the owners.

A resolution was passed authorizing the mayor to sign with the school board a petition asking professional appraisal of all real property in Hope School District No. 1-A and Washington School District No. 12. This is the same petition the Hope School District approved at its meeting Monday night.

A resolution was passed.

Inmate Files Court Suit

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Floyd Bailey Jr., an inmate at the Pulaski County Penal Farm, filed a petition Tuesday in U.S. District Court here alleging that conditions at the farm are unconstitutional.

Bailey alleged in the petition: — That he had been forced to work in inclement weather without clothing.

— That the toilets don't have running water and that the drinking water contains "green slime."

— That trusty inmates "do bodily harm without restraint" to other inmates and have authority to use clubs.

— That mail is opened and money stolen by "the help" in the Penal Farm office.

— That inmates are confined to the farm illegally because they can't pay fines.

Budget Takes Time of Legislators in 2nd Week of Extension

By MACK McLARTY
State Representative

The Arkansas Legislature is now in its second week of extended session and it looks now as if it will be the end of March before we adjourn.

In our column of last week we mentioned the Eagleton Study—the research project to find ways to improve the operation and products of the House and Senate. I am now more convinced than ever that there are some desperately needed procedural improvements in our state legislature.

Two years ago, when I served as Chief Reading Clerk of the house, it was apparent that our government should function in a more streamlined manner. Now that I serve as Representative I am sure that there is something wrong with the method of operation.

Few of the legislators are happy about not finishing in 60 days—particularly when most have been working 15 hours a day. The Governor, likewise,

Editor of Circular Against Reassessing Draws Sharp Reply

EDITOR'S NOTE: In explanation of the following public letter we should report that a white-paper circular called the Grassroots Bulletin in Hope Tuesday attacking the Hope School District's proposal to bring in out-of-town professional appraisers and re-assess property of the district.

The Grassroots Bulletin proclaimed itself: "Authorized publication of Concerned Citizens Group; Wm. E. Tarpley, Secretary-Editor, P.O. Box 51, Hope, Ark."

High Court May Rule on Death Penalty

By BARRY SCHWEID
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court may be nearing a decision on the death penalty. It could be bad news for the 618 men and two women in death cells.

Observers expect the court to reject by a split vote the argument that the penalty phase of capital trials should be separated from the body of the trial.

Rated even less of a chance is the second argument confronting the justices: That jurors should be bound by definite standards as they decide which men should die and which should live.

These issues have been before the court for more than three years. There were no executions in the interim. In fact, the last execution carried out in the United States was on June 2, 1967.

A Supreme Court rejection of the two arguments does not necessarily doom the nation's death row inmates, however. Individual governors still could exercise their clemency powers. And if the court decided to consider the ultimate death penalty question—whether capital punishment itself is unconstitutional—all executions would remain barred.

Justice Harry A. Blackmun is considered the key man in the current cases. He has ex-

The Arkansas Legislature is now in its second week of extended session and it looks now as if it will be the end of March before we adjourn.

In our column of last week we mentioned the Eagleton Study—the research project to find ways to improve the operation and products of the House and Senate. I am now more convinced than ever that there are some desperately needed procedural improvements in our state legislature.

Two years ago, when I served as Chief Reading Clerk of the house, it was apparent that our government should function in a more streamlined manner. Now that I serve as Representative I am sure that there is something wrong with the method of operation.

Few of the legislators are happy about not finishing in 60 days—particularly when most have been working 15 hours a day. The Governor, likewise, position you have so strongly stated concerning the "hoax... which is being planned... in minute detail by a... 'Special Interest' group". This hoax you discuss deals with a move for reassessments in order to aid the dire financial situation now facing the school system of Hope.

I am confused over some of the points you have expressed and have spoken with others who would be equally grateful for more details.

Let me first acknowledge that my own special interests have led me to write you. My first "Special Interest" is education because I am the mother of two school-age youngsters.

My second "Special Interest" is education because as a teacher for ten years I have taught in several school systems. Therefore, I can say through experience that the attitude of most Hope residents toward the school system and personnel is deplorably biased, backward, and selfish.

The third group to which I claim a special interest is that of a taxpayer who believes that the fibre and future of this country hinges entirely on the amount of money and time each American citizen is willing to invest in quality education for all the nation's children.

In your paper, Mr. Tarpley, you invited those who would take an active part in stopping an "outrage" to write the local newspaper.

Now may I invite you to do the same and clarify in the print of this paper the following points:

1. Did you attend the school board meeting last week which was announced on the front page of this paper, in order to discuss the issues at hand? If not, it is not surprising to see that the figures you quoted were misleading.

2. Do you actually feel that our taxing authorities such as the Assessor and Equalization Board are capable of a true and unbiased assessment and equalization? If so, why didn't they assume this responsibility in the first place and avoid such a situation as this?

3. Also if this was so, how could it be that a property such as one purchased recently on Hy. 29 South for $17,000 was only taxed for 97 cents!

4. If you are so opposed to a "foreign" assessor, (your term for one from the "outside"), why not call for publication of all taxable property figures so that we, the taxpayers you say you represent, may all see for ourselves if these officials are not lax in arriving at true, consistent, and equal tax assessment values.

5. On what do you base your qualifications to evaluate the motives and performance of the citizens and educators of this community who are financially audited and guided by the North Central Association, and who have exhausted all other alternatives to obtain necessary funds from an indifferent public.

6. Are you willing to read aloud this first edition of your "bulletin" at the next school board meeting so that all teachers and other taxpayers may explore your accusations and comments as you confront in person those you chose to vilify in print?

I maintain that anyone who is against a true and equal assessment accomplished by competent and unbiased agents is against honesty.

I am also—

WASHINGTON (AP) — Wavering and uncommitted senators were the target of a last-minute White House blitz today as the Senate prepared to decide the fate of the supersonic transport plane.

White House press secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said President Nixon would be telephoning certain senators in advance of today's crucial vote, considered a toss-up in the final hours.

Nine senators were considered uncommitted.

The President spent 15 minutes at the White House Tuesday afternoon talking to Conservative-Republican Sen. James Buckley of New York.

Storm of Protests to Railpax

By ROBERT A. HUNT
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — A storm of protests and the threat of a congressional inquiry have greeted the map detailing the nation's new and limited rail passenger service.

"I think the railroads had too much to say about the routes," said Rep. Harley O. Staggers, D-W.Va., chairman of the House Commerce Committee.

Staggers said his committee would look into the situation, but he didn't set a date.

Criticism began rolling in almost immediately after the National Railroad Passenger Corp.-Railpax—announced its final route selections Monday. The network starting May 1 will provide 184 passenger trains to connect 114 cities with 100,000 or more population.

The plan to halve the nation's rail passenger service was labeled shortsighted and ruinous by top officials of the AFL-CIO Transport Workers Union who called Tuesday for nationalization of the railroads.

"The proposed network is a cynical betrayal of pledges of improving rail service for the riding public and represents a serious curtailment of railroad jobs," said Matthew Guinan, international president of the 135,000-member union.

Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield and Sen. Lee Metcalf, Montana Democrats, said two-thirds of their state and six of its largest cities will not have rail passenger service under the Railpax plan.

They introduced a bill requiring railroads to return federal land grants where service is being abandoned.

Mansfield said the land grants were provided in the 19th century as incentives to provide railroad service. "If they abandon this intention I see no reason why they should benefit from the land grants."

Other complaints were prompted by the circuitous routing between Washington and the West Coast and the elimination of all interstate passenger trains through Cleveland, the nation's 12th largest city.

Claims Rorex Asked to Quit

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Eugene T. Kelly, executive secretary to Gov. Dale Bumpers, said Tuesday that Bumpers had asked for the resignation of John T. Rorex as director of the drug education program of the state Crime Commission.

Kelly said that Bumpers wanted someone of his own choosing who would develop a concrete program to help fight drug abuse.

Rorex could not be reached for comment, however his office said he had resigned.

South Vietnamese Push in Laos Ends With Red Tanks in Hot Pursuit

AP News Digest

SAIGON (AP) — The South Vietnamese drive against the Ho Chi Minh trail in southern Laos ended today with North Vietnamese tanks pursuing the Saigon troops right to their border. U.S. units which had supported the 45-day operation were pulled out of the border base of Khe Sanh, which is being closed out during the next three weeks.

Jailing Poor Suit Filed

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A suit was filed in U.S. District Court here Tuesday challenging the constitutionality of a state law which provides for the jailing of persons who cannot afford to pay fines on misdemeanor offenses.

The suit was filed by Richard Monroe Sims. Sims was fined $306 in North Little Rock Municipal Court March 17 for possessing stolen property. He was ordered to work out the fine at $5 per day at the Pulaski County Penal Farm.

The U.S. Supreme Court ruled three weeks ago that a person cannot be sent to jail solely because he is unable to pay a fine.

5 States Vote to Lower Voting Age

WASHINGTON (AP) — Five states have approved a constitutional amendment lowering the voting age to 18, launching the ratification process aimed at extending the franchise to 11 million Americans before next year's elections.

Minnesota and Delaware legislators approved the proposed 26th Amendment Tuesday less than an hour after the House, in a 400-19 vote, completed congressional action. Tennessee, Connecticut and Washington followed quickly.

Thirty-eight state legislatures must ratify the amendment before it becomes a part of the Constitution. The 10 amendments approved in this century have required an average of 15 months for ratification.

The amendment provides no citizen 18 or older may be denied the vote in any election on account of age. The practical effect is to allow persons 20, 19 or 18 to vote in state and local elections.

Congress approved last year a bill reducing the voting age to 18 for all elections. But the Supreme Court held the law could apply only in federal elections, that states have the right to set their own voting qualifications.

The new amendment swept through the Senate two weeks ago by a vote of 94 to 0.

Twenty states have beaten efforts in the past 10 years to lower their voting age to 18. But backers of the 26th Amendment predict last year's Supreme Court decision will result in quick ratification.

Crime to Defile Flag Law Upheld

WASHINGTON (AP) — The New York law that makes it a crime to defile or cast contempt upon the American flag "either by words or act" was upheld today by an equally divided Supreme Court.

At the same time, the court affirmed the conviction of a Madison Ave. art gallery owner who exhibited sculpture by a war protester displaying the flag as a male sex organ.

All the states and the federal government have laws that forbid the desecration of the flag.

Since the court split 4 to 4, the decision was not accompanied by any statement of the justices' views or even how individual justices voted. The tie resulted from the self-disqualification of Justice William O. Douglas, who also gave no explanation.

The gallery owner, Stephen Radich, was sentenced to 60 days in jail or a $500 fine. In February 1970 the New York State Court of Appeals upheld the conviction 5 to 2. The ruling said Radich may have a sincere ideological viewpoint but he cannot use "insults to a flag" to express it.

Under Supreme Court rules, a tie vote sustains the ruling of the last court to act on the case.

Showers Are Expected in Arkansas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Scattered showers are expected to spread over Arkansas tonight.

The forecast calls for the precipitation to end by the west Thursday afternoon.

A developing storm center over the Rockies, coupled with an advancing warm front, will produce the showers. Increased cloudiness is also expected.

Brisk northerly winds and a cloud cover help Tuesday's temperatures in the 40s and 50s. Highs range from 47 at Harrison to 56 at Fort Smith.

Highs today are forecast mostly in the 50s with highs Thursday predicted in the mid 50s and 60s. Lows tonight should be in the 30s to low 40s.

Post Reports on Stolen
FBI Document

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Washington Post says stolen FBI records show the FBI keeps tabs on campus and black activist groups through informants ranging from switchboard operators to bank cashiers.

The newspaper reported today it received a packet Tuesday containing a cover letter, an additional statement from the Citizens Commission to Investigate the FBI and 14 FBI documents.

It said one document encouraged agents to step up interviews with dissenters "for plenty of reasons, chief of which are it will enhance the paranoia endemic in these circles and will further serve to get point across there is an FBI agent behind every mailbox."

"In addition, this will be overcome by the overwhelming personalities of the contacting agent and volunteer to tell all—perhaps on a continuing basis," the Post reported the document read.

Justice Department sources, the Post reported, said there is no question the documents are copies of files stolen in a burglary of the FBI's Media, Pa., office March 8.

Also reported receiving copies of the stolen documents were Sen. George McGovern, D-S.D., and Rep. Parren J. Mitchell, D-Md. Both gave the FBI their copies.

Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell asked Tuesday the documents not be published because "disclosure of this information could endanger the lives or cause other serious harm to persons engaged in investigative activities on behalf of the United States."

Some documents, the Post said, dealt with the Black Panther Party, the Philadelphia Black Panthers, the National Black Economic Development Conference, and two peace group meetings. Several of the documents were dossiers on individuals not cited as belonging to organizations under surveillance, the newspaper reported.

One such individual, a professor in a Philadelphia area college, was watched by the local police chief, the Post said. In addition, the college switchboard operator agreed to furnish the FBI with a list of long-distance telephone calls to and from the professor.

Chase's Calendar of Annual Events Lists
a Day for Everyone

By JOY STILLEY
NEW YORK (AP) — While there may be only 365 regular days in a year, there are well over a thousand special days, ranging from Mustache Day to Be Late for Something Day.

Whether your thing is Pizza Glutton Day, Whale Watching Week or International Play Your Own Harpsichord Month, there's a choice for everyone in the multitude of holidays and celebrations listed in Chase's Calendar of Annual Events.

For calendar-watchers who are not weight-watchers, any number of taste-tempting happenings from soup to nuts are scheduled each year—including National Split Pea Soup Week and National Peanut Week.

You might start with National Spanish Green Olive Week and Feast of the Radishes Day, then go on to Fish 'n' Seafood Parade. For the entree perhaps the Delmarva Chicken Festival or National Colorado Beef Month.

For dessert take your pick of National Cherry Month or California Strawberry Festival. This meal goes well with Killenry Beer Festival or, for the more daring, Bourbon Month.

If a snack is more your style there's the National Kraut and Frankfurter Week and International Pickle-Hamburger Month, washed down with National Root Beer Week. All this is logically followed by National Indigestion Week, sponsored by the baking soda people.

If you don't measure up during National Weights and Measures Week it's time to consider indulging in Let's Play Tennis Week, Let's Play Golf Week or, for the really sports-minded, the International Frisbee Tournament.

This accomplished, you can turn to the observance of Mother-in-Law Day. By coincidence it is on the first day of National Goodwill Week and a month removed from Intolerance Day.

Besides mothers-in-law, there's plenty to laugh at during the year: National Comedy Day, Save the Pun Week, National Humor Week, National Laugh Week, or if you're not

$1.1 Million
Approved for State Prison

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A construction program of almost $1.1 million for the state penitentiary was approved Tuesday by the Joint Budget Committee of the Arkansas Legislature.

The program included $350,000 for the construction of a minimum security unit and $300,000 for a new women's reformatory, both of which had been requested by Gov. Dale Bumpers.

The total capital improvements program would be financed by a new allocation of $750,000 in state funds and the reappropriation of $348,255 of funds allocated to the penitentiary by the 1970 special legislative session.

The committee voted to reappropriate $62,901 for improvement of the barracks and latrine and $71,936 to renovate the kitchen and dining area at Cummins Prison Farm.

The committee voted to appropriate $100,000 in new funds and reappropriate $213,417 for improvement of the penitentiary water and sewer facilities.

At the urging of Bumpers, the committee also voted to set aside $150,000 for emergency financing at the University of Arkansas Medical Center in case the center's regular appropriation is not sufficient. The money would come out of a $500,000 contingency fund the committee voted Monday to establish for the colleges and universities.

The committee also approved an appropriation of $40,000 in the next fiscal year and $540,000 in the following year as matching money for communities that want to establish junior colleges.

Bill Would Transfer Dept. of Correction

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A bill was introduced Tuesday in the Arkansas House to transfer the state Department of Correction to the new Department of Social and Rehabilitative Services.

The bill, by Rep. Julian Streett of Camden, would place the Department of Correction under closer supervision of the governor.

Under the measure, the powers and duties of the Correction Board, including the authority to name the correction commissioner, would be transferred to Social and Rehabilitative Services. The board would become an advisory body.

Streett denied the bill was designed to provide a way of removing Correction Commissioner C. Robert Sarver, although Sarver's detractors have talked in the past of either abolishing the Board or consolidating the department with another agency in order to get ride of Sarver.

The measure would provide that the head of the penitentiary system would be named by the director of the Department of Social and Rehabilitative Services with the advice and consent of the governor. Currently, the board of the Department of Correction has the sole authority to name the commissioner.

Streett said his bill was designed to make the Department of Correction responsive to the administration.

He said he did not think the Department of Correction was being operated properly under Sarver, "but that has nothing to do with my actions."

"I don't believe its the legislature's job to remove Sarver," he said.

Merger Bill
to Senate
LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A bill providing for the merger of the University of Arkansas and Arkansas AM&N College was introduced Tuesday in the Arkansas Senate.

The bill bears the name of the Senate Judiciary "A" Committee as sponsor, but Sens. Knox Nelson and Morrell Gathright, both of Pine Bluff, played leading roles in discussions that led to development of the proposal.

The bill sets out the general arrangements for the merger, which is to be worked out by the presidents, faculty and staff of each institution. Under the bill, the merger would become effective July 1, 1972.

A discussion was held about the city entering into an agreement with the Urban Renewal Agency to buy, improve, and operate parking lots in the downtown area. The agreement should be prepared and ready for action at the next meeting.

Attempted Coup in West Africa Fails

FREETOWN, Sierra Leone (AP) — An attempted coup by the army commander in this West African nation apparently failed when other senior army officers arrested him and announced they were keeping Prime Minister Siaka P. Stevens in office.

The army's third in command, Lt. Col. Sam King, said in a broadcast late Tuesday night that a majority of the country's 1,500-man army dissociated themselves from Brig. John Bangurah's attempt to seize power.

There was no word from Stevens himself. Army sources said earlier he was being held in protective custody; where was not disclosed.

Bangurah's attempt on the government began at dawn Tuesday when about 12 armed soldiers attacked Stevens' home. In a 15-minute gunfight, security guards killed two of the attackers. Sporadic gunfire was also reported near the military barracks and the center of the city.

There was no indication what developments during the day led to repudiation of Bangurah and his arrest.

Stevens, a militant 65-year-old trade union leader, has been at odds with various of the military leaders since his All People's Congress won half the parliamentary seats in March 1967. Six days later a military junta prevented his taking office, but the next year he and a group of army sergeants overthrew the junta and Stevens became prime minister.

Last September Stevens claimed he had uncovered an army plot to overthrow him and declared a state of emergency, taking unto himself extensive powers. He jailed 100 political opponents and weeded out army officers he considered were against him.

Sierra Leone became an independent member of the British Commonwealth in 1961. It has an area of 28,000 square miles, a population of nearly 2.5 million. In 1966 it exported nearly $100 million worth of diamonds.

tion's largest railroad to the tracks of the Little LaSalle & Bureau County Railroad, 100 miles southwest of Chicago.

U.S. Atty. Louis C. Bechtel, who first disclosed what he called "sketchy and incomplete" details of the railroad car scheme, said four businessmen, whom he did not name, would be the first witnesses before the 23-member panel.

The jury also will sift records the FBI seized from the tiny railroad, which only has 15 miles of track, and from Magna Earth Enterprises, Inc., a firm which rents office and shop space from LaSalle.

Magna Earth reportedly repairs and repaints freight cars and leases them.

Joseph Cinotto Jr., general manager of the LaSalle, denied participating in any wrong doing.

"This is all a terrible mistake," he told newsmen when the story first broke. "I really don't know what happened."

"The whole thing is still being investigated by the FBI," Spriggs said. "The facts have not been sufficiently developed to tell exactly how this scheme operated or was manipulated."

Throughout the world 58 nations impose the death penalty and 26 have abandoned it.

The cases up for decision in the high court are appeals by Dennis C. McGautha of Los Angeles and James E. Crampton of Toledo, Ohio.

McGautha, 45, a native of New Orleans, was convicted of slaying Benjamin Smetana, proprietor of a small market in Los Angeles during a 1967 hold up. His robbery companion, William R. Wilkinson, was sentenced to life in prison.

Crampton, 44, was convicted of the 1967 slaying of his wife, Wilma, with her father's revolver.

support of the proposal before the Senate —whether to approve $134 million for continued development of two SST prototypes through June 30.

Buckley, however, said he had sought and received a presidential pledge that no commercial SSTs would be built until environmental arguments against it were met.

The President's personal role in the battle began known as the Senate began final debate in a barrage of charge and counter-charge summing up the arguments of two years.

Opponents forecast dire consequences to the ecology, hampering hard at warnings of some scientists that commercial fleets of SSTs might cause a sharp increase in skin cancer by disrupting the atmosphere.

Backers of the 1,800-miles-per-hour plane dismissed such arguments as unproven and said the craft is needed to bolster national prestige, the aerospace industry and employment.

They have pointed to a joint British-French SST and a Soviet supersonic plane, both much further advanced than the U.S. effort, as a reason why the American product should be developed.

The Soviet TU144 prototype already has been test flown and the plane is reported ready for production sometime this year.

It is expected Moscow would be willing to negotiate some of the traditional Soviet barriers in dealing with the West in turn for orders of the TU144.

Sen. Allen Ellender, D-La., chairman of the Appropriations Committee, predicted a two-vote victory for the SST.

Senate staffers charged with head counting for the leaders of both sides were cautious as the showdown approached, predicting a 49-49 split that would leave it up to the tie-breaking power of Vice President Spiro T. Agnew.

Two senators are ill and not expected to vote.

Mrs. A.B. "Skeet" McCorkle and Mrs. Marie Louise Simpson, both of Dallas, attended the Garafino funeral on Monday and visited Mrs. Ed McCorkle.

Methodist Youth Push Building Drive

"And a little child shall lead them" has been increased by quite a few children and young people at the First United Methodist Church, who have spearheaded a variety of activities to promote the building of a new sanctuary.

In fact, these boys and girls were so confident that their elders would succeed in a building program that they began earning money for new pews before the church organization was completed.

Whether it was doing house and yard work on Saturdays last fall, having a pancake breakfast or serving a chili supper, these young people were working with one goal in mind—build a structure with a foundation of faith.

Last Sunday, March 21 the children and youth were told of a Share Service for them to be held next Sunday, March 28. In it the young people will be able to have a part in the building program with their own gifts, as a letter from vice-chairman of Children and Young People, Danny Joyce, explained this week.

Lay announcements have been made during March to young and old alike. George Frazier spoke on "Our Plan" March 7, Dr. F.C. Crow explained "Our Need" March 14, Judge John Wilson told of "Our Responsibility" March 21, and Larry Patterson will speak on "Our Pledge" March 28.

Girl Scouts Plan Annual Cookie Sale

Help is coming for Hope Citizens with a sweet tooth. The first of 125,000 boxes of Girl Scout Cookies have arrived in Conifer Council, ready to be delivered to customers beginning March 26. For those who did not place an order, two delicious varieties, peanut butter and butter-flavored shorties, are still available at 50c a box from March 26 through April 3.

Individual Girl Scouts and troops will be competing for the incentive awards. Any girl selling 400 boxes or more will receive a full camp fee for Camp High Point and a silver charm. She also becomes a member of the "400 Club" and receives a special trophy.

Individuals selling 300 boxes are awarded half the camp fee; for 200 boxes $10.00 toward her camp fee; and for 125 boxes $5.00 a special evening in their honor. The traditional cookie cup is inscribed with the name of the top salesman and she keeps it until the next year's award event. The troop selling the most receives a tent. The second highest troop award is a flag of the World Association of Girl Scouts and Girl Guides.

Send your teenage questions to YOUTH ASKED for it, care of Helen Help Us! this newspaper.

IS COLUMIST FOR REAL?

Dear Helen, or whoever you are: My woman and I have a bet. She is a trusting soul who "believes." I'm the worldly type who wonders. I think you make up your questions and answers.

In fact, you may even be some man back there in a New York office, churning out what people want to hear. You hit the nail on the head so often, you would almost have to be male. You don't write like a woolly-brained female. There's no real "Helen," right? And no mail!—Who'd write to a columnist? (You, for one—H.)

Come on now "H.", I won't think any the less of you if you confess I won the bet. —M.C. Dear M.C. (That's gotta stand for "Male Chauvinist!")

I showed your little gem to 1.) My husband; 2.) our offspring; and 3.) our mailman.

Number One said, "If she isn't real, how come she talks so much, and if she's a man, why didn't somebody tell me before we had all those kids?"

Number Two said, "What does that make us—ghosts?"

Number Three said, "Ha!!!" — wistfully, as he unloaded another heavy bundle of mail. During those "rain, snow, sleet and dark of night times," he no doubt wishes you had won the bet, M.C.

All of which is a female, roundabout way of saying Helen Bottel is alive and real and living in Central California amid a sea of letters. Why should I tax my

Sinatra Says He's Quitting Show Business

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Frank Sinatra, bobby sox idol of the 1940s and show business giant of two later decades, says he is retiring from the entertainment world and public life.

The announcement comes four months after Warner Bros. studio said the singer-actor was forced to withdraw from a starring role in a movie because of persistent pain in the right hand.

Sinatra, 55, in a statement to the New York Daily News, said Tuesday his retirement is effective immediately, adding, "I look forward to enjoying more time with my family and dear friends, to writing a bit—perhaps even to teaching."

His stormy career included his reign as pop singing king, a dip in popularity, a move Academy Award for a comeback performance in "From Here to Eternity," romances galore, bouts with the law and the title of "Mr. Show Business" as the one of the most successful recording and nightclub artists in history.

His wives included actresses Ava Gardner and Mia Farrow.

brain concocting fakes when readers send me thousands of true stories each week?—H

Dear Helen:

I happened to look on the dashboard of my daughter's boyfriend's car the other day and saw a little notice printed on it: "Please fasten your chastity belt."

Do you think he's the type she should be dating?—DOUBTFUL PARENT

Dear Parent:

Why not? He's either got a great sense of humor or he's giving her fair warning. Either way the boy is a good risk, yes?—H.

Dear Helen:

I am sure there is incest in my sister's family. Her husband and her daughter are involved.

This foolish woman does nothing about it because she is afraid. She couldn't face the scandal, and she couldn't face the world without a man to support her—even if he is more like a beast.

She is ready for a nervous breakdown, yet she still won't get help. The "family name" is more important than her daughter's mental health. Her daughter won't talk. She's scared too.

What can we do?—HORRIFIED AND HELPLESS Dear Hoffer:

Why not bring your sister and niece into your home for a visit? Once away from this man, they will surely realize they must make a permanent break... and if you put them in touch with an expert counselor the return to sanity may come much sooner.—H

(NOTE TO READERS: Incest happens more often than any of us want to believe. The director of a home for unwed mothers estimates that almost half of the 12-to-14-year-old girls she interviews have been made pregnant by someone in their own families. But charges are seldom made: out of fear or shame, everyone lies to protect the guilty—and sometimes the teen-ager returns to the same miserable situation she left.—H.)

Australia Hiring U.S. Teachers

By WILLIAM J. WAUGH
AP Education Writer
WASHINGTON (AP)—At the rate of 1,000 inquiries a week, American teachers are inundating Australian educators with responses to an advertising campaign inviting them to leave the United States to "teach in the happy country down under."

It is the second year that the Australian state of New South Wales has come to America market looking for math and science teachers, the Australian embassy said.

Last year 300 teachers were hired from the 14,000 persons who inquired, said Bill Robinson, a New South Wales recruitment officer. He said this year's hiring goal is 1,000 teachers.

Australian states are responsible for their own education systems, Lionel Mead, Australian immigration attaché, said, and at the present time are unable to supply enough teachers "as more people are going on to secondary school."

The states of Victoria and Tasmania already have been in America recruiting small numbers of math and science instructors, he said, and the states of South Australia, Queensland and Western Australia "May come in later" looking for teachers.

New South Wales has established an office at the Hotel McAlpin in New York City and is advertising in professional magazines and other media to reach potential teachers in all 50 states and Canada, recruiter Robinson said.

New South Wales describes salaries as "comparable to other professional salaries." A federal government pamphlet states that a teacher with a bachelor's degree would get $3,677 the first year and $5,412 after 10 years under present scales.

Robinson said his state is primarily looking for young teachers. He said he had been "surprised at the number of American couples applying. They represent about 20 per cent of the total."

Hepatitis Vaccine Is Developed

By BRIAN SULLIVAN
AP Science Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — A New York University scientist reported today the successful immunization of humans against the most serious form of hepatitis, a major step toward the development of a vaccine.

If a vaccine is developed, perhaps within five to nine years, the disease—serum hepatitis—could be controlled in much the same way that polio vaccine has virtually eradicated polio in this country.

The report came from Dr. Saul Krugman, chairman of the pediatrics department of the New York University Medical Center.

"We do not yet have an effective vaccine," Krugman said in an interview, "but the door is being pushed ajar."

Hepatitis is a virus-caused disease, attacking the liver and causing jaundice, nausea, weakness and other symptoms.

Generally, there are two kinds of hepatitis, serum and infectious. Serum hepatitis can be transmitted in blood transfusions or from contaminated needles. Infectious hepatitis is generally spread through infected food or water or person-to-person.

But these traditional distinctions are now being found to overlap, with some serum hepatitis spreading through direct or indirect contact. Serum hepatitis is usually more serious, especially in adults. It can be fatal.

Krugman said his research team used a serum made from the serum hepatitis strain of virus, called MS2 virus, and mixed it with distilled water, then boiled the solution for one minute.

This preparation, Krugman said, destroyed the ability of the substance to infect a

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — It is hard to describe ABC's latest "Movie of the Week." The unusual Tuesday night show was called "In Search of America" and was obviously the ambitious pilot for a future series.

While it started as an earnest effort to explain the younger generation in sympathetic terms to the older one, it wound up with the wisdom and common sense of the solid, conservative oldsters prevailing.

Off-beat in concept but frequently banal and cliché-ridden, it was the story of a middle-class American family, the Olsons—mother, father and grandchild—who decide to tag along with son Mike when he drops out of college and see the country and find himself.

The family set off merrily in an elderly, remodeled bus and almost immediately camped out at a rock festival.

Much of the segment was filmed at a real rock festival, but as shown on television, this one seemed as tame and cozy as a family campsite at Yellowstone Park. True, the Olsons parked their bus next to a young couple determined to have their baby naturally—without doctor's help. And in one scene a girl rolled a cigarette and lit it, suggesting strongly no tobacco was involved. But for the rest, it was all clean living and love as the Olsons were educated. There was also a subplot, strictly soap opera style, about a young girl running away from a kidney machine that was keeping recipient with the disease, but did not impede its ability to stimulate production of antibodies against serum hepatitis.

Antibodies are disease-fighting agents produced in the body when it is exposed to foreign substances. Two injections of the boiled serum proved to protect the individuals from hepatitis and produce antibodies against it.

her alive. "In Search of America" didn't make ABC's next season schedule, probably because it came a bit after the parade was over.

Carl Betz and Vera Miles played the parents, and Ruth McDevitt was the grandmother. Jeff Bridges played their dropout son.

It was a most uneven 90 minutes, even for a pilot.

President Nixon's prime-time interview with ABC's Howard K. Smith on Monday night was the loser in the three-way battle for audiences. He attracted about the size audience that usually tunes in Johnny Carson's late evening program.

Nielsen ratings made in the New York area showed that NBC's "World Premiere" film feature attracted an audience almost four times the size of the President's while CBS's "Doris Day Show" and half of "The Carol Burnett Show" had an audience more than twice as large.

Louis Armstrong Is Recovering

NEW YORK (AP) — Louis Armstrong is reported by his doctor to be recovering from a heart condition which led to his admission to Beth Israel Hospital March 15.

Dr. Gary Zucker, who has been treating the famous trumpeter, said Satchmo sat up in a chair Sunday, had his first oral feeding in the hospital and was in high spirits. Armstrong is 70.

Super Bowl Awarded to New Orleans

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer
PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — The Super Bowl has been awarded to New Orleans—a compromise choice apparently forced upon National Football League owners by a strange series of unrelated factors, including the tactics of a Miami attorney and the strength of the Dallas Cowboys.

In what may have been the toughest decision in their six years of selecting Super Bowl sites, the NFL owners Tuesday selected New Orleans to host pro football's premier spectacle on Jan. 16, 1972, following a long afternoon session requiring 14 ballots.

What ultimately paid off for New Orleans was the inability of either Miami, a three-time host, or Dallas, bidding for the game for the first time, to surmount the strikes against them and gather enough votes to win on any of the first 13 ballots.

Miami couldn't get the required minimum of 20 votes from the 26 owners for two reasons—the sentiment among the owners for shifting the game between American and National Conference cities and a Miami attorney.

The attorney in question is one Ellis Rubin, who this past January filed three lawsuits to have the local television blackout of the Super Bowl lifted so that Miami area fans could see the game from the Orange Bowl.

"No one's going to admit it publicly," said one club official. "But there were a lot of owners who wanted to get away from Rubin."

Dallas, meanwhile, qualified as an NFC city but was handicapped by two other factors—Texas Stadium, the proposed site of the game, seats only 65,000 compared to the 80,000 in New Orleans' Tulane Stadium, and the Cowboys are a possible Super Bowl participant.

"I'm not saying it was a major factor, and it isn't to me, but the competitive thing may have kept Dallas from getting it more than any other city," said Commissioner Pete Rozelle. "If I were a club owner, I'd probably hate to play against a home team getting local support. Some clubs might have felt that would give them a competitive edge."

Yacht Race Record Broke by 14 Boats

MONTEGO BAY, Jamaica (AP) — The first 14 boats across the finish line broke the record for the 811-mile Miami-Montego Bay Yacht Race Tuesday, but their crews would not learn until today how they had placed in the blue water event.

Windward Passage, a 73-foot ketch out of New York City, finished the race first in three days, three hours, 40 minutes and seven seconds. The big ketch knocked 30 hours off the record she set in 1969 and at times was sailing at better than 40 knots per hour.

But a 33-foot sloop named Lex from the Pensacola yacht club was among 17 boats still racing for the finish line Tuesday night. Doxy could win if she managed to get into port before the handicap placed on Windward Passage.

At 11:30 p.m. Tuesday, the 43-foot Improbable out of San Francisco appeared the leader in corrected time, sailing the finish line at 8:19 p.m.

Four Hurlers Look Very Impressive

By HERSCHEL NISSENSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer
Spring training is that time of year when the pitchers are supposed to be ahead of the hitters, but last year Steve Carlton, Luis Tiant, Tommy John and Tom Griffin weren't ahead of anybody.

Such wasn't the case Tuesday as all four question-mark hurlers turned in impressive exhibition outings.

Carlton, a 20-game winner in 1969, slipped to 10-19 a year ago. Tuesday he worked seven strong innings, yielding only two runs, as the St. Louis Cardinals trimmed the Cincinnati Reds 5-2 with Jose Cardenal collecting two doubles and two singles.

Tiant, once a star with Cleveland, turned in a deceptive 1970 record of 7-3 with Minnesota, but the Twins got him scads of runs and he was beset by injuries much of the year. His contribution Tuesday was four innings, one run, four hits, two walks and four strikeouts in the Twins' 8-3 romp over the Atlanta Braves.

John, counted to be half of the Chicago White Sox' 1-2 pitching punch, finished with a 12-17 record. He stifled the New York Yankees on one run through seven innings Tuesday and the White Sox pushed across a run in the eighth to win 4-3. Tom Egan, who also homered, swatted his third double of the game and tallied the winning run on Tom McCraw's single.

Griffin, an impressive 1969 rookie, spent part of last season nursing his sore arm in the minors after compiling a 3-13 record and sky-high 5.76 earned run average with Houston. Tuesday, the Astros battered the Los Angeles Dodgers 8-3 and Griffin went six innings, allowing three hits and three runs, two of them unearned.

But Tuesday's pitching hero was Shoji Murata of Japan's Lotte Orions. He pitched a complete game six-hitter and fanned 13 in a 9-4 triumph over the Cleveland Indians. It was the 22-year-old right-hander's second route-going effort, the first coming against California.

The Angeles didn't have to face Murata this time but had their troubles with the San Diego Padres, who scored twice in the ninth and held off California 5-4. Tommy Dean, who drove in his first run of the spring earlier in the game, brought home the tie-breaker with a single.

Some other strong pitching was turned in by Detroit's Joe Coleman, who stopped Kansas City 6-1 with seven good innings and received home run support from Norm Cash, Willie Horton, Aurelio Rodriguez and Dalton Jones.

Jerry Janeski, recently traded to Washington, blanked Montreal for five innings and the Senators won 4-3. Joe Foy drove in three runs with a homer and double and Frank Howard also homered.

Ray Newman, Joe Decker and Juan Pizarro teamed up for a six-hitter as the Chicago Cubs whipped San Francisco 8-0.

But Baltimore's Jim Palmer was pounded for six runs in six innings in a 7-4 loss to Pittsburgh. Al Oliver, Bob Robertson, Richie Hebner and Richie Zisk homered for the Pirates.

And Oakland's Chuck Dobson was raked for six runs in five frames as the Milwaukee Brewers made off with a 9-3 victory.

Finally, the New York Mets scored an unearned run in the 11th inning on a walk, throwing error and Tim Lincecum's sacrifice fly and nipped the Boston Red Sox 5-4.

State Handed First Defeat of Season

JONESBORO, Ark. (AP) — Northwestern University defeated Arkansas State University 6-3 in baseball action here Tuesday afternoon.

The defeat was the first of the season for the Indians, who are now 5-1.

Defender Rolf Baglein came out in the fifth inning with the lead and held the Indians to a 3-3 tie. Northwestern posted its first victory in three starts.

Airlines Open Spots Palmer and Trevino

MIAMI (AP) — Jack Nicklaus made a late decision not to compete, so the attention is centered on Arnold Palmer and Lee Trevino in the $200,000 National Airlines Open Golf Tournament.

"My schedule really wasn't that certain," Nicklaus said. "I was holding back a decision to see how well I felt. I was playing in Jacksonville."

"If I thought I was playing well, I would have played National Airlines. But I'm just not that satisfied with my game. I won't play now until the Masters."

Nicklaus, the current PGA and British Open champion, finished in a tie for eighth in last week's Greater Jacksonville Open, six strokes back of play-off winner Gary Player of South Africa.

He and Billy Casper, who has been on an extended vacation, are about the only major names missing from the 150 man field that begins the race for the $40,000 first prize Thursday in the first round of the 72-hole test.

Palmer, winner of two events this year and the season's leading money winner, and the flamboyant Trevino, the defending champion, rank as the men to beat.

Palmer is playing more than he has in recent seasons and, for the first time in more than a year, isn't complaining about his putting. Trevino, on the other hand, is playing less than he usually does and has some second thoughts about his putting.

Some other leading contenders include Tom Shaw and Carlyle Sneed, each a winner of two tournaments this year, San Diego winner George Archer, the tough little Player and National Seniors champion Julius Boros, who was second by a stroke to Palmer in the Citrus Invitational two weeks ago.

Kansas and UCLA Have Same Record

By DENNE FREEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer
HOUSTON (AP) — John Wooden and the Astrodomes are old acquaintances. That's acquaintances, mind you, not friends.

"The Astrodomes isn't the best place in the world to play a single basketball game," the UCLA coach said Tuesday, "but it's probably the best place for a tournament."

Wooden brought his Bruins into Houston today for a run at an unprecedented fifth consecutive NCAA basketball championship.

And Wooden remembers how it was when the Bruins' 47-game winning streak was snapped by Houston 71-69 in the Astrodomes before 55,000 fans in 1968.

"The playing floor (in the Astrodomes) was out in the open and the background made depth perception difficult," Wooden said. "No one shot well before the game and the television lights overhead made it extra bright. Every player shot below their season average except for Elvin Hayes of Houston. He had a great game."

Wooden is taking some comfort in the fact that NCAA officials are installing 7,000 seats on the floor around the basketball court to give it "more atmosphere" for Thursday night's semi-finals and Saturday afternoon's finals.

Western Kentucky and Villanova collide Thursday night at 6:30 p.m. CST with UCLA and Kansas scheduled at 8:40 p.m. CST. Some 35,000 fans and a national television audience (NBC) will view the action Thursday and Saturday.

Under Wooden's guidance, UCLA has won 26 straight NCAA tournament games and the Bruins have captured the national title six of the last seven years.

Wooden said he was particularly impressed with Villanova after watching the Wildcats last Saturday on television against Pennsylvania.

Wooden also said the size and quickness of Kansas impressed him.

"They will be difficult to beat," he said.

All four teams scheduled evening workouts today in the Astrodomes.

Kansas and UCLA bring 27-1 records into the playoff with Villanova 26-6 and Western Kentucky 23-5.

Philadelphia, Baltimore Rated Even

BALTIMORE (AP) — Philadelphia and Baltimore, rated about even, open a National Basketball Association playoff series tonight with the Bullets ailing at their strongest point in the man-to-man match up.

Center Wes Unseld and forward Gus Johnson of the Bullets, two of the top rebounders in the NBA, are coming off leg injuries and could be at less than peak strength for the Eastern Conference best-of-7 semifinals.

Unseld and Johnson form the best one-two rebound combination in the league, picking off an average of 17 apiece per game.

Unseld finished second to Wilt Chamberlain of Los Angeles in the official averages, while Johnson didn't play enough games to qualify.

Johnson, however, missed 16 games in the closing weeks of the season and had fluid drained from a knee on Monday, while Unseld missed the final eight games with an injured ankle.

Billy Cunningham, Philadelphia's leading scorer with a 23-point average, also tops the 76ers in rebounding with just 12 a game.

On nationwide television last Sunday, at halftime of the Baltimore-Philadelphia regular season game, Cunningham said he "tries to survive" when playing against Johnson, whom he described as the strongest forward in the league.

While Baltimore usually has edge on the front line against Philadelphia, the 76ers are rated superior in the backcourt. In the final meeting between the two teams Sunday, 76ers guards Archie Clark, Hal Greer and Wally Jones combined for 55 points.

Boston Red Sox American League—East

Ray Culp

PITCHING—Ray Culp, Sonny Siebert and Gary Peters won 17, 16 and 15 games, respectively, last season. Fourth starter may be Ken Brett, who struck out 155 men in 139 innings last season. Jim Lonborg, who wound up in Louisville last season, will be back to lead three come-backers. The others are Jose Santiago and Mike Nagy. Bullpen buoyed by acquisition of Ken Tatum, Vicente Romo and Sparky Lyle behind him. Rating: B

CATCHING—Starting job a tossup among rookie Bob Montgomery, Don Pavletich and Tom Satriano. Gerry Moses, last year's starter, is now in California. Rating: C

INFIELD—It looks as if George Scott will stay at first base the whole season. He hit .295 last year and proved he was no third baseman. Rookie Doug Griffin, from Angels' chain, will get crack at starting job at second base, replacing Mike Anderson, who changed Sox. Luis Aparicio takes over at shortstop after his best season ever with White Sox—he hit .313 last year. Rico Petrocelli will move to third base, a change that should pose no problems. Rating: B—

OUTFIELD—Carl Yastrzemski stays in left after hitting .328 with 40 home runs and 102 RBIs. He was .0003 of a point behind Alex Johnson in batting race. Reggie Smith hit .303 with 22 homers and 74 RBIs and shifts to right. Billy Conigliaro (.263) will take over in center. He is better defensively, weaker offensively. Rating: A

ROOKIES TO WATCH—Infielder Tony Muser, from Louisville, and pitcher Rogelio Moret will be kept around.

Predicted Finish: 2nd in East

True North Assigned Top Weight

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — C. V. Whitney's True North has been assigned a top weight of 122 pounds for the 18th running of the $50,000-added Oaklawn Handicap Saturday.

True North is presently in Florida and according to trainer George Poole, it is doubtful he will be shipped to Hot Springs for the one and one-sixteenth mile race.

True North was second choice in the Gulf Stream Park Handicap last week, but did not place at the wire. Earlier in the winter, True North accounted for two stake victories at Hialeah.

Assigned one pound less than True North is B. A. Dario's Great Mystery at 121 pounds. Great Mystery recently arrived from Gulf Stream and made his first outing at Oaklawn last Saturday by finishing second in the Razorback Handicap.

The likely favorite for the Oaklawn Handicap, weighted at 120 pounds, is Francesco, who won a six-length decision in the Razorback.

Arriving from Fairgrounds and a recent winner of the New Orleans Handicap, Rio Bravo will carry 117 pounds and will be coupled in the betting with another T. A. Grissom handicap performer, Charlie Jr. Charlie Jr., winner of last year's Oaklawn Handicap, will carry 115 pounds.

Others expected to go to the post are last year's Arkansas Derby winner, Herbalist, carrying 113 pounds and Robert E. Lehmann's Dust Commander with 112 pounds.

Nominat, but not expected to run are Spotted Line (116), Climber (115), Son Excellence (114), Famed Prince (110), Yorkville (109) and Jay Lea (107).

One three-year-old was nominated. Mrs. John Mann's Staunch Avenger was assigned 110 pounds but the colt will not start.

Desert Rally Richest Off Road Race

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — The richest, roughest off-road race, the $50,000 Mint 400 Desert Rally, was history today—and most of the drivers swore they'd be back for more next year.

The winner of the $6,000 top prize, Fritz Kroyer, a Danish-born, Canadian citizen from Santa Susana, Calif., pictured the ordeal this way:

"I dropped down into one gully and when I hit the silt it came over the front of my buggy like a solid wall of water."

"When that happens all you can do is close your mouth and your eyes and keep moving."

Kroyer drove six of the eight 50-mile laps in a single-seater dune buggy. The other two laps were driven by Bill Harkey, 52, of San Fernando.

Their time was 13 hours, 30 minutes and 42 seconds over the desert wasteland 20 miles northwest of Las Vegas.

Numerous drivers reported severe bruises and only 25 of the starting field of 264 finished the eight laps.

Parnelli Jones, the 1963 Indianapolis 500 winner, completed three laps before his Bronco broke an axle. He was co-driver with Al Unser, the 1970 Indy champion.

Last year during the first 39 days of the meeting, the attendance was 460,928 and the handle was $35,060,359.

Mississippi Soph Signed by Memphis

By BRUCE LOWITT
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — The National Basketball Association was reaffirming its decision to keep its hands off collegians. Two blocks away the American Basketball Association was grabbing the highest scoring one, Mississippi sophomore Johnny Neumann.

The rival leagues held separate all-day meetings Tuesday in the wake of Monday's decision by U.S. Dist. Court Judge Warren Ferguson in Los Angeles which struck down the NBA's rule forbidding the signing of players whose college classes have not been graduated.

NBA Commissioner Walter Kennedy said after Tuesday meeting: "We discussed at some length any possible changes in the 1971 college draft procedures and it was determined there would be no changes. Undergraduates can not be drafted."

But the ABA, which precipitated the current upheaval two years ago by signing Spencer Haywood after his sophomore year at the University of Detroit, kept it going with the nabbing of Neumann who signed with the Memphis Pros for what the Memphis Commercial Appeal said in a copyrighted story was a "five-year no-cut contract in excess of $2 million."

Neumann said the fact that his father, Robert suffered a major heart attack last month and might never return to work was influential in his decision to turn pro.

"He knew this was my dream and I'm sure this is really part of his dream too—for me to play pro ball," said the 6-foot-6 1/2 guard who averaged 40.1 points per game for the Ole Miss Rebels.

ABA Commissioner Jack Dolph, who announced the signing—and would say nothing of any other matters discussed by the younger league—said Neumann was not signed as a "hardship case," the ABA by-law employed by the Denver Rockets to get Haywood and, later, Ralph Simpson, also from Detroit.

Instead, Dolph explained, Memphis presented him with the Neumann contract and, because it was not a hardship case pact and Neumann was an undergraduate, it was rejected. The Pros then appealed to the ABA board of directors which, on advice of counsel based on Ferguson's ruling, unanimously approved the contract.

Attendance, Race Betting Runs Ahead

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — The attendance and mutual handle at Oaklawn Park here continues to run far ahead of last year's figures.

Esposito Has Locked Up Scoring Title

By LARRY ELDRIDGE
Associated Press Sports Writer
BOSTON (AP) — Phil Esposito has just about locked up the 1970-71 National Hockey League scoring title, and apparently there won't be any down-to-the-wire race with his Boston Bruins teammate Bobby Orr.

Esposito's lead of 141-133 with just six regular season games left would be difficult one for Orr to make up under any circumstances. And with the East Division championship already clinched, the Bruins plan to rest their super defenseman quite a bit as they tune up for the Stanley Cup playoffs.

As far as the scoring crown goes, it's apparently going to fall to Esposito, who won it with a record 126 points in 1968-69, then lost out to Orr last season as the latter became the only defenseman ever to annex the title with 120 points.

Both players have long since surpassed those marks this season in their two-man race which virtually rewrote the NHL record book.

Esposito has scored 67 goals to break Bobby Hull's old one-season mark of 58 and has added 74 assists for 141 points to date, while Orr's figures of 37 goals, 96 assists and 133 points have all surpassed the league records he set in all three categories for defensemen a year ago.

Even with limited action, Orr should have a shot at becoming the first NHL player at any position to reach the century mark in assists. And nobody will be rooting any harder for him to do it than Phil Esposito.

Laker Coach Has Respect for Bulls

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Los Angeles Lakers Coach Joe Mullaney calls the Chicago Bulls predictable and sound.

This may seem faint praise, but Mullaney is also aware that the Bulls, a team without a superstar, take the National Basketball Association's third-best record into tonight's opening playoff game against the Lakers.

In a league noted for free-lance offenses dominated by flashy guards and high-scoring games, the Bulls rely on college-style patterns, a pair of strong forward and a stifling defense, the NBA's second-best. Their stars, Cincinnati castoff Bob Love and former 76er Chet Walker, are hardly household words, but they are two of the league's best forwards, and they will give the Lakers' Happy Hairston and Jim McMillian a severe test.

McMillian, the rookie from Columbia, could be the key for the Lakers. Built along the lines of Elgin Baylor at 6-foot-5 and 225, McMillian played well at forward, his college position, in the final weeks of the season

Capital Conference

Things Look Better for Women Netters

NEW YORK (AP) — Billie Jean King's goal of a $100,000 year in women's tennis probably looked years away last fall when she led a walkout from a tournament because the purses were too small.

But that was last year. Now as she prepares for her first match today in the Virginia Slims Invitational Tournament, the 100G mark isn't completely out of line. She has won seven of nine women's tennis events on a tour sponsored by Philip Morris and a total of $24,450.

Mrs. King, 27, is the feature of the four-day tournament at the 34th St. Armory. She was a leader in the better-play-for-more-pay movement which includes such notables as Rosemary Casals of San Francisco, Ann Haydon Jones of England, Nancy Richey Gunther of San Angelo, Tex., and Francoise Durr of France.

The Virginia Slims purse is $15,000, quite a bit under the total $90,000 the men played for last week in New York in the finals of the Tennis Champions Classic. But for Mrs. King and Co., it is a strong beginning.

when Los Angeles was without injured all-pro guard Jerry West.

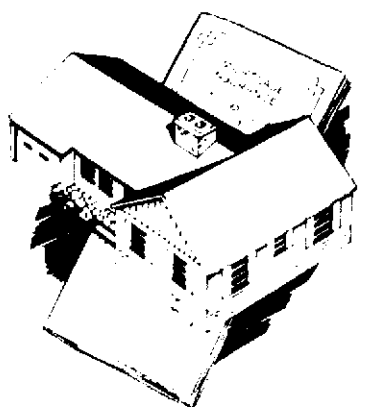

McMillian and 6-foot-7 Hairston both rebound well for their size and should be able to help the Lakers' Wilt Chamberlain match Chicago's Love, Walker, and either Tom Boerwinkle or Jim Fox on the boards.

The Bulls also have a height advantage in the backcourt, where Jerry Sloan, 6-5, and Philadelphia Matt Goukas, 6-6, team to set up the patient Chicago offense and spearhead a harassing defense.

Negro Named District Congressman

By GREGG HERRINGTON

WASHINGTON (AP) — Walter E. Fauntroy, a Yale-educated clergyman who learned his civil rights activism from the late Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., has won the District of Columbia's first seat in Congress in 100 years.

The 37-year-old Negro Democrat won 59 per cent of the vote and carried all black sections of the city Tuesday in the six-man race for nonvoting delegate to the House of Representatives.

Republican Jack A. Nevius, a moderate-to-liberal Republican, was second with 25 per cent of the vote. Nevius, who is white, carried the mainly white precinct that includes wealthy Georgetown.

Independent Julius W. Hobson, a Negro, was third with 13 per cent. Three others—an avowed homosexual, a black nationalist and a Socialist Workers Party candidate—polled 2 per cent or less each.

That Fauntroy would lead the field in this city 71 per cent black where registered Democrats outnumber Republicans 6 to 1 was a foregone conclusion. But many predicted Nevius, Hobson and the others would draw enough votes to hold the District, as Hobson had done in his campaign.

With all 128 precincts reported, the unofficial count gave Fauntroy 66,119, Nevius 28,044 and Hobson 15,019.

At a victory rally early this morning Fauntroy said he will work to win full congressional representation for the government-run city's 756,000 residents. However, he stopped short of urging statehood for the District, as Hobson had done in his campaign.

Until this year District residents are allowed to vote only for president and the school board. While Fauntroy will have no vote in House action, he will be allowed to vote in committees, make floor speeches, offer legislation and hire an office staff. He will receive the same $42,500 salary as other congressmen.

Argentine Military Makes Plans

BUENOS AIRES (AP) — Argentina's new military junta apparently plans to maintain the previous government's controversial economic policies.

In one of their first official acts Tuesday, the three commanders of the armed forces who deposed President Roberto M. Levingston continued Aldo Ferrer in the key post of economic minister.

Lt. Gen. Alejandro Lanusse, the army commander, and his air force and naval colleagues ousted Levingston early Tuesday because he wanted to delay returning the country to elective government for four or five more years. Some military leaders also objected to Ferrer's nationalist economic program to Argentinize the economy.

Turnpike Bill Approved in Senate

By ROBERT SHAW

Associated Press Writer
LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Senate approved Tuesday a new turnpike bill that would permit the state Highway Commission to maintain and operate toll roads constructed under the legislation.

The bill is similar to a turnpike measure that had been passed earlier by the Senate and killed in the House, but a major difference is that it would not permit the commission to assume the bonded indebtedness of a turnpike.

In other legislative action, the House refused to approve the appropriation for the state Parks, Recreation and Travel Commission but passed a bill by Sen. George Locke of Hamburg, requested by circuit clerks, that would transfer from the clerks to local revenue offices the responsibility of selling documentary stamps under the real estate transfer law. The vote was 94-0.

The turnpike measure was approved 23-5 before being sent to the House for consideration. The bill, sponsored by Sen. Knox Nelson of Pine Bluff, would reconstitute the current state Turnpike Authority, which had found that it could not build any turnpikes within the financing limits of the existing toll road law.

The state highway director would be an ex-officio member and secretary of the authority and the other six members would be appointed by the governor subject to Senate confirmation.

The measure would not permit the construction of a turnpike until it had been determined that the income from the road would finance the revenue bonds that would be sold to pay for the project.

The feasibility decision would have to take into consideration a feasibility study by a nationally recognized firm of traffic engineers. The Highway Commission would have veto power over the authority's decision to construct any turnpike and could oversee the planning of the project's construction.

Both the House and Senate spent most of the day Tuesday working on appropriation bills in an effort to complete legislative business by Saturday, but it began to appear that the General Assembly might have to work into next week in order to finish up.

Critics of the management of the state parks succeeded in blocking approval of the parks department's appropriation. The vote was 40-11, with 75 votes needed for passage. The House fell seven votes short, 60-15, of erasing the record of the failure.

L. E. Surles, hired in the administration of Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller to head the parks division of the department, came under fire from several House members who opposed the appropriation of $1,370,000 for the next fiscal year and $1,440,000 in the following year.

Rep. L. L. Bryan of Russellville said the appropriation should be defeated "to get somebody's attention" on the parks operations.

In a reference to Surles, Bryan said: "One man with the experience of running a swimming pool down in Texas has completely deteriorated our parks."

He said most park superintendents had been fired and that most others had been "harassed to the point they are about to quit." Veteran park superintendents are being replaced "with a bunch of wet-nosed kids who don't know what they're doing."

Rep. Cecil Alexander of Heber Springs, defending parks management, said state park fee collections had increased by $236,000 under Surles.

The House had passed the Senate-approved bill previously, but expunged the record of passage Tuesday in order to recede from a minor amendment to which the Senate would not agree.

The House also was unwilling to go along with the recommended appropriation to the Livestock and Poultry Commission for improvements at the state fair grounds in Little Rock.

The representatives adopted an amendment by Rep. Roger Logan Jr. of Harrison to reduce the amount recommended for the improvements from $281,000 to $156,000 and to add the $125,000 slashed from the appropriation to the $125,000 the bill had set aside for the five district fairs. Then the House defeated the amended bill 59-28, with 75 votes needed for approval.

Little Rock representatives said the amendment could seriously cripple the annual state livestock show. But supporters of Logan's amendment said there should be greater promotion of district fairs. Rep. George E. Nowotny Jr. of Fort Smith said district events had the potential of doing a better job than the state show.

The Senate voted 20-6 to approve a bill to exempt from prosecution for obscenity employees of movie theaters who might be subject to charges because of obscene movies shown at the theater. Sen. Oscar Alagood of Little Rock, sponsor of the bill, said the measure would not protect owners of the theaters, but that employees should be exempt if their actions were in the line of duty. Sen. Carl Sorrels of Atkins gave notice that he might seek another vote on the bill.

The senators adopted a resolution by Sen. W. D. Moore Jr. of El Dorado that requested a legislative audit of the state Board of Pharmacy. Moore has charged that the board has engaged in political activities in his district. He pocketed the board's appropriation bill last week to tie up consideration of the measure.

The Senate approved 18-8 a chiropractic bill opposed by some medical groups that would empower a state Board of Chiropractic to regulate the chiropractic profession. Alagood is the author.

Sen. Morrell Gathright of Pine Bluff said chiropractors supported the proposal principally because they wanted to "clean their skirts" of their own profession.

If medical people "believed one-half of what they have said" about Alagood's bill, they should produce a bill of their own to abolish the practice of chiropractic, "but they haven't got the guts to approach you that way," Gathright said.

The House approved 88-1 the appropriation bill for the state Game and Fish Commission after defeating amendments by Rep. Ernest Cunningham of Helena to create a motor pool in Little Rock for agency employees, prohibiting them from driving state-owned vehicles home at night, and to require the director to itemize expenses for which he is reimbursed by the state.

In other action, the House: —Rejected 68-3, with 75 votes needed for passage, a bill appropriating $23,100 in the first year of the coming biennium and $24,900 in the second year for the state Waterways Commission. Brandon said Rep. Gean McDonald of Sheridan, chief opponent of the bill, was opposed to the measure because one of the commissioners, H.K. Thatcher of Camden, worked on a report that recommended building a dam on the Saline River at Benton to which McDonald is opposed.

—Approved 75-15 a $30,000 appropriation in each of the next two years for the Arkansas Art Center to operate its artmobile.

—Approved 93-0 a revenue bill to allocate $25,000 to buy furniture and other items for the governor's mansion.

—Refused to reconsider the vote by which it had failed to adopt the emergency clause to the bill that would establish a self-insurance program for the public schools, thereby releasing the bill for consideration in the Senate.

—Approved 68-17 a bill by Sen. Oscar Alagood of Little Rock to permit 18 years olds to work in establishments that dispense mixed drinks, but prohibiting them from serving cocktails.

Among the appropriation bills approved were measures to appropriate:

—$6 million in general revenue and $18 million in special revenue annually for aid to counties.

—$1 million for construction at the Benton unit of the State Hospital.

—$145 million for state Highway Department operations.

—$11.9 million from the Higher Education Construction Account for college construction and $1.5 million from the Higher Education Construction Account of the Capital Improvement Reserve Fund for college and university construction projects.

Malnutrition Survey Is Released

By JAMES PHILLIPS
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Ernest F. Hollings has released what he says are results of a federal malnutrition survey he earlier charged was suppressed by the Nixon administration.

An aide said the South Carolina Democrat obtained the results from Dr. Arnold E. Schaefer, who once headed the survey but fell out of favor after he embarrassed some Nixon administration officials in 1969 by disclosing partial results.

Hollings said March 6 that Health, Education and Welfare Secretary Elliot Richardson was keeping survey results covered up because President Nixon wants to phase out federally assisted programs such as food stamps.

But Tuesday Hollings released survey results he said show malnutrition-caused growth retardation in the United States differs little "from that of problem areas in Africa, Asia and Latin America."

Assistant U.S. Surgeon General David Spencer last week denied survey data had been gathered dust and said the survey would be released within 30 days to the Senate Select Committee on Nutrition and Related Human Needs.

But Spencer said survey results would add little to what is already known about malnutrition and hunger.

Hollings said the three-year survey shows "definite evidence of malnutrition in the U.S. Dietary studies indicate that a large segment of the American population is not eating what it should."

"As many as one-third of the children from infancy to six years examined in the survey have already suffered growth retardation ... with the highest concentration among Mexican-American children in Texas," he said.

Violent Storms Hit in This Area Frequently, Here's What to Do

Arkansas Residents
NEW ORLEANS.—Each year violent storms cause untold property damage, personal injury and loss of life, much of which can be avoided if a few precautions are taken.

Many communities in Arkansas are particularly susceptible to the ravages of strong winds, tornadoes, hail — or even all three types of storms. Tornadoes, the most destructive of all storms, may appear with little warning fast action is necessary to escape their fury.

In the event of a tornado or other high winds which threaten severe damage, the Insurance Information Institute offers the following tips for protection of yourself, your family and your property:

—At home, if no storm cellar is near, a corner of the basement nearest the approaching tornado or nearest the direction from which the wind is blowing is safest, particularly in wood frame houses. If in a basementless house, seek shelter elsewhere—even an open ditch can offer some protection.

—Avoid auditoriums, gymnasiums and other buildings having large area roofs relatively lightly anchored. They may collapse. Also avoid trailer homes and automobiles which may be blown over.

—If you sight a tornado in open country, move at right angles to the tornado's path. Most tornadoes travel at 25 to 40 miles an hour and a person in an automobile can usually outrun one. If there is no time to escape, lie flat in the nearest ditch, ravine or other depression. Don't stay in your automobile.

After a Storm
After a windstorm or hailstorm don't hinder first aid and rescue work. Unless qualified to render valuable emergency assistance, stay away from disaster areas.

If you must drive immediately after a storm, drive carefully. If you venture out by car or afoot, watch for fallen wires and trees. Don't touch dangling or loose power lines or electric wires. In a storm the live power lines may become entangled with metal fences, telephone or other wires. Contact, in some cases, would be fatal.

Be careful of fire at all times. Damaged communications may result in a delayed fire alarm, the many pressing demands upon emergency services or debris-obstructed streets can slow the response of fire apparatus and low water pressure can make fire-fighting difficult.

Make Temporary Repairs
If you suffer a storm loss covered by insurance, first make temporary repairs necessary to prevent further damage to your property.

Keep receipts showing the costs incurred because necessary temporary repairs will be considered part of the insurance claim. Then notify your insurance agent, telling him the extent of damage.

The agent will report the loss to your insurance company and will arrange to have an adjuster call on you. Your company will make every effort to settle all claims quickly and fairly.

Congress Gets Volunteer Army Issue

By TOM SEPPY
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon sent to Congress today his plan for a national volunteer corps, saying "America must enlist the ideals, the energy, the experience and the skills of its people on a larger scale than it ever has in the past."

Nixon's proposal for the national volunteer service corps, which he announced in a speech at the University of Nebraska Jan. 14, was sent to Congress amid reports of inter-agency bickering over details on how the agency would operate.

Nixon's message said he will ask a budget of $176,330,000 for the new agency, combining all the current budgets of the agencies and adding $20 million extra.

Under the three-part action of the President, the following programs would be brought together: Volunteers in Service to America (VISTA) and Auxiliary and Special Volunteer Programs of the Office of Economic Opportunity, Foster Grandparents and the Retired Senior Volunteer Program of the Department of Health Education and Welfare, and the Service Corps of Retired Executives and Active Corps of Executives in the Small Business Administration.

HOPE (ARK.) STAR. BUDGET TAKES

areas where monies have been budgeted.

Higher salaries for the major state department heads—this is a very good measure because it will attract high quality businessmen who would be willing to enter government service because of an aura of professionalism.

Aid for the maintenance and operation of the school districts. Salary requests—this is primarily the $900,000 raise for teachers to be given over the next two years which the Governor has asked for in his income tax increase.

Consumer Protection—This year an outstanding consumer protection law was passed in Arkansas. Now Attorney General, Ray Thornton, has been given the money to hire an additional two or three attorneys to enforce the law.

Commission on Crime and Law Enforcement—this $33,000 will go toward stemming the tide of an ever-increasing crime rate. Crime is doubly expensive. For every dollar lost to crime it costs two to make it up—one to replace the stolen dollar and one to apprehend and correct the criminal.

Arkansas Industrial Development Commission—this will add $20,000 a year for advertising Arkansas to more companies and states. It should help to attract more industry which gives Arkansas a broader tax and economic structure. (Our former business associate, Stark Ligon, is the new advertising and promotion director for the A.I.D.C. Many of you remember that Stark lived in Hope for two years and served as my campaign manager last summer. Because of Stark's position and his affection for the people of Hempstead County we should be able to keep in close touch with the A.I.D.C. and perhaps find some attractive new industry for our county.)

Additional personnel for the adult education department—this will help more and more adults receive training which will enable them to enter careers which are new and which will pay higher dividends.

Authorize revenue bonds for a branch of the Smithsonian Museum in Hot Springs—what a tremendous, worthwhile advantage in building what must become one of the nation's top tourist attractions and cultural developments.

Legislation to control the transportation and traffic of drugs—although all federal money will pay to enforce this law, it had to be processed through the state legislature.

State Kindergarten Program—Legislation—although no monies will probably be funded in this area yet it was necessary to legislate in favor of it. I am privileged to serve on the State Education Advisory Commission and every shred of evidence we have found points to the need for such a state kindergarten program.

Monies for the U. of A. Medical Center—this money will be utilized to secure matching federal funds for the improvement of one of Arkansas' most important institutions.

Defeated Measures
Two of my biggest disappointments were the defeat in this session of a law to limit campaign expenditures. The bill which was offered and defeated was a poorly drafted bill which would have invited more loopholes than it would have effectively closed. The bill should have been defeated, as it was, for this reason. My disappointment was that another, more realistic bill was not drafted. I do believe there is somewhat of a voter revolt against excessive campaign spending, particularly on the national congressional and gubernatorial levels. Many of the candidates who spent the most lost their elections. This was the case in Arkansas and Texas.

Another disappointment was the Governor's veto of the bill which would authorize an election on a $300 million highway bond issue. It is the general feeling that Governor Bumpers used his veto because the legislature had failed to approve his request for toll road legislation.

One of Arkansas' chief liabilities is the lack of a good highway system. In my judgment the economy suffers much greater from its lack than the cost of the investment. A state highway system, like its educational system, is directly related to its economic growth.

It is my feeling that Southwest, Southeast and Northeast Arkansas have been neglected by too many administrations. A highway bond issue might accelerate the economies of those areas faster than anything else, short of the discovery of gold. It is certainly vital to potential industrial development. The tragedy is that on bond issue the Federal government matches $40 of state money with $60 of Federal money.

It is my hope that the Governor will reconsider this in two years. Time is of the essence, as they say.

State Self-Insurance Program

The House last week passed 52 to 40 a bill which would put the state into the self-insurance business. I voted against the program for a variety of reasons, foremost of which is that it has been tried in other states and has often proven to be an utter catastrophe. I will grant that it has worked reasonably well in some states.

The bill, as adopted, would allow the state to insure schools and public institutions. The state was forced into this situation partly by the default of the insurance industry. Because of vandalism, campus riots, etc., private insurance companies skyrocketed the premiums to schools.

My vote was more of a vote of question rather than negativism. I simply question the government getting into an industry traditionally reserved for private enterprise. I am also reluctant to add another major administrative budgeting and departmental headache at the very time we are attempting to bring greater economy and efficiency to state government.

The bill passed by only two votes above the minimum necessary and now it goes to the Senate. I would like to explore some alternatives: like spreading the risk among all casualty companies doing business in Arkansas with a guaranteed percentage of profit like that enjoyed by public utilities. If the loss were over the amount insured then the legislature could vote to subsidize the companies with emergency funds. I really don't have enough facts to support this idea, but it seems more realistic to me than Arkansas, as a state, entering a business it knows nothing about administratively.

I also think the insurance industry needs to do some fast soul searching about its public rights and responsibilities as an industry. Sorry, if I got up on a soapbox, folks, but I do have rather strong feelings about states and businesses acting responsibly.

Visit To Hope
I do want to say how great it was to attend the Chamber of Commerce banquet last Wednesday. Donna Kay and I appreciate your warm response and particularly the personal words of encouragement. It is a good feeling for a novice legislator to be told he is doing at least a few things right.

Donna Kay and I look so forward to touring the county and seeing so many of you who have written, called or talked with us during the session. Upon adjournment we will be polling you for your feelings about what we need to be working toward in the next session.

Group Seeks to Return All Troops

WASHINGTON (AP) — A new bipartisan effort to get all U.S. troops out of Southeast Asia by the end of the year is in the works here and will be announced this week, it has been learned.

The lobby will feature independent but similar drives in the House and Senate, with special emphasis on attracting lawmakers who have supported Johnson and Nixon-administration war policies.

Helping coordinate the effort is Common Cause, a Washington-based citizens lobby headed by John Gardner, former secretary of health, education and welfare.

The campaign, called Coalition to Help End the War, is one of several recent efforts on Capitol Hill aimed at getting the United States out of Vietnam.

The drive actually started last week with a letter to senators from Sen. Charles McC. Mathias, R-Md., and Sen. Daniel K. Inouye, D-Hawaii. They asked support for a statement favoring "the termination of all American military action in or over Indochina and the withdrawal of all American military forces from Indochina this year."

No legislation or formal resolutions are involved so far. Sources close to the effort said the goal is to get a simple numerical Senate majority to sign the Mathias-Inouye statement and 218 representatives to sign a similar statement in the House.

It was understood the House letter is running into trouble from Republicans. "Many Republicans don't want to seem to be the tail on the Democratic kite," one source said. "They're afraid of seeming to be merely a side show."

Several bills and resolutions already have been introduced in the House this session aimed at speeding U.S. withdrawal from South Vietnam.

House Democrats have announced a March 31 caucus will consider a proposal supporting U.S. withdrawal by Dec. 31. An early draft of the House proposal that would go out as part of the new Common Cause-assisted drive calls for total withdrawal of all U.S. forces—including supporting troops and air power personnel—by the end of this year, as did the Mathias-Inouye letter.

The draft also urged House members to vote against any appropriations and related measures that would finance the war beyond Dec. 31.

The Mathias-Inouye Senate statement does not specifically mention appropriations bills but calls on supporters to "work for responsible legislation during the current session to fulfill our obligation to end American participation in the war."

Defense for Calley in Protest

By HARRY F. ROSENTHAL
Associated Press Writer
F.T. BENNING, Ga. (AP) — Unaware of a defense demand that they be prodded to work harder toward a verdict, Lt. William L. Calley's murder trial jurors asked for yet another read-back of testimony today.

It is the eighth day of their deliberations in the My Lai trial that has spanned the seasons from autumn into spring—the longest court-martial in history.

The request was for the testimony of Sidney Kye of Kansas City, Kan., who had said he saw Calley firing into what appeared to him to be a ditch, and Daniel Hill, a helicopter crew chief who said in a deposition he saw bodies there before Calley and his men entered the village.

Calley is charged with killing at least 70 people at that ditch, the main execution site according to the government.

The other site was at the crossing of two village trails, where Calley is accused of killing at least 30. The trail incident occurred first.

The jurors already had listened for the second time to testimony of 10 witnesses—eight prosecution and two defense. All testified early in the four months of the trial.

Calley's attorney, George Latimer, protested the readings and became even more incensed Monday when he saw newspaper stories that the jurors watched television in the evening and had a few after-dinner drinks.

"I worked 18 hours a day, almost seven days a week, during the trial," the 70-year-old Latimer protested. "This is not a siesta. This is serious business. We've got a man's life at stake."

ALC Promotes Brandon

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Rep. B. D. "Doug" Brandon of Little Rock was promoted Tuesday from vice chairman to chairman of the Arkansas Legislative Council.

Brandon will serve as chairman through the next biennium. He succeeds Sen. Clarence Bell of Parkin whose term had expired.

Sen. Knox Nelson of Pine Bluff was named vice chairman.

The Legislative Joint Auditing Committee also held its organizational meeting and named Sen. Virgil T. Fletcher of Benton as chairman. He succeeds Rep. Walter Day of Blytheville.

Humphrey Is Back on Campaign Trail

By WALTER R. MEARS

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey urged Democrats today to join in a campaign against "yet another new Nixon."

"Richard Nixon and his Republican administration must be defeated next year," said Humphrey, the man Nixon beat to win the White House.

"But at the same time," he said in keynoting a Democratic conference on the issues of 1972, "the Democratic party must demonstrate to the American electorate its capacity to assume the leadership of this nation."

Republicans have a keynote of their own for the campaign ahead: A $1,000-a-plate fundraising dinner tonight, billed as the official launching of their 1972 campaign.

Nixon and Vice President Spiro T. Agnew will be on hand for the GOP dinner officials said had attracted more than 1,500 contributors. At $1,000 a ticket, that would total more than $1.5 million.

Humphrey's speech was prepared for a closed session of the Democratic Policy Council, convened to examine the issues and draft Democratic answers.

Humphrey is chairman as the party's last presidential nominee. The 100-member council includes almost all the potential contenders for the next nomination.

Sen. Edmund S. Muskie of Maine, Humphrey's 1968 running mate and leading prospect for 1972, is vice chairman.

Humphrey told the council, "If we do our job effectively, Richard Nixon can—and will—be defeated in 1972."

"Never have the American people encountered a national administration that relied so heavily upon a unique mixture of executive arrogance, public relations gimmickry and the blatant intimidation of the news media," Humphrey said.

"The public airwaves are repeatedly usurped by the President for partisan advantage, while lesser lights in the administration are dispatched to attack and intimidate the network news organizations," he said.

Humphrey said "there is today yet another new Nixon—the Richard Nixon 'leveling' with the American people through a series of restricted and insulated network and newspaper interviews."

He said the administration record "speaks far more loudly than any television special or newspaper interview."

"The decisions and priorities of this administration, as revealed in countless ways over the past two years, reveal its

'ITIS' Is the Tipoff To Inflammation

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

Dear Dr. Lamb—I would like to know what gastritis is and also colitis. Are they related in any way? Also, what are some of the foods it would be better not to eat? What is good to take for it?

Dear Reader—There are a few standard clues to medical terminology that are useful for everyone to know. One of these is the ending ITIS. Whenever you see this term used you can be certain that it means inflammation. Thus, gastritis is inflammation of the stomach. Colitis is inflammation of the colon. Appendicitis is inflammation of the appendix. Laryngitis is inflammation of the larynx. Sinusitis is inflammation of the sinus. Bursitis is inflammation of the bursae (the lining around the joints). Nephritis is inflammation of the kidneys (nephro refers to kidneys). Cystitis is inflammation of the bladder.

Inflammation does not always mean an infection, although that is one way to produce it. Inflammation can be caused by chemical trauma, mechanical trauma, burns and radiation, as well as infection.

Gastritis is usually caused by an excess amount of the acid pepsin juice normally secreted by the stomach. You can, of course, have an acute gastritis, like the person who has alcoholic gastritis after an episode of drinking too much alcohol. Colitis is often associated with poor bowel habits and sometimes nervous tension. Impulses from the nervous system, usually as a result of prolonged anxiety and stress, can at least contribute to the problem of gastritis and colitis. In both instances it is better to eat mild, bland foods and avoid those which are heavily spiced. Low-fat milk, uncreamed cottage cheese, vegetables, baked chicken and fish are usually tolerated. Some people with colitis have trouble with certain vegetables, but they will soon learn which ones to avoid.

Gastritis is often relieved by taking antacids usually those made with aluminum hydroxide which can be obtained in either tablet or liquid form in the drugstore without a prescription. Persons who have a persistent problem with either their stomach or their colon, however, should see a physician.

If South lets East hold that first heart trick he will have made a sort of backward Bath Coup. True, the jack has been played but the nine spot has taken its place as the third best card in the suit. If East is foolish enough to continue hearts, South will have an extra heart trick.

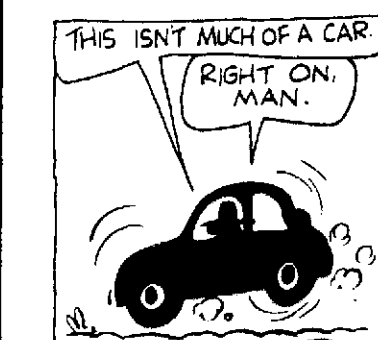

Of course, if West had led the 10 of hearts from five to the king-10, the low heart play would lose the contract, but we would pay off to anyone who did that to us.

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

In 1735, freedom of the press was recognized in New York when John Peter Zenger was acquitted of libel charges for criticizing British Gov. Cosby's conduct of office. The World Almanac recalls. The jury found Zenger not guilty, as his statements were true and, therefore not libelous.

fundamental inability either to comprehend or to deal with effectively the deep rooted concerns of the American people," Humphrey said.

SHORT RIBS

By FRANK O'NEAL

Words cannot express our feelings at this time but we would like to take this opportunity to thank our many friends for their acts of kindness during the loss of our beloved son and brother. The words of sympathy, the flowers, the food sent to the home and for the prayers in our behalf. This has made our loss easier for us to bear. May God bless each and every one of you.

Information About Social Security

By KEN HARGIS

Q. What is the difference between a widow's social security benefit at age 60 and one at age 62?

A. A widow may be entitled to reduced benefits on her deceased husband's record at age 60. The benefit would be 71 1/2 per cent of the husband's social security benefit. If, however, she waits until age 62 to begin receiving her widow's benefit, it will be 82 1/2 per cent of her husband's benefit.

Q. My retirement check did not come on the third of the month as usual. What should I do about it?

A. When a regular social security payment has not been received by the sixth of the month, a report should be made to the social security office and an investigation will be made as to the reason for delay. A beneficiary who changes his address should notify the social security office as well as the Post Office to assure delivery of his check as well as other mail.

Q. I will be age 65 in October, 1971. I am still working and cannot easily get off work to come into the office. Is there some other way that I can make an application?

A. Yes. We can complete your application by telephone and send it to you for signature.

Q. My husband is 59 years old, and he receives disability insurance. Will this affect the amount of his retirement benefits when he is 65?

A. No. Retirement benefits are not reduced because a beneficiary has received disability payments before age 65.

Q. I have received widow's insurance since I was 82. I will be 65 years old in December of this year. How do I apply for Medicare?

A. About three months before you reach age 65, you will receive a card by mail asking if you want to enroll for Medical Insurance. You just check "Yes" or "No", sign your name, and return the card in the envelope which will be enclosed, and your Medicare will be effective at the beginning of the month of your sixty-fifth birthday.

If you have any questions regarding social security, send them to the Social Security Office, Box 1319, Texarkana, Texas, attention: Ken Hargis.

the speed of light. We were out to put together a device that was inexpensive enough and easy enough to handle to be used in demonstrations in a classroom or laboratory."

Edmons and sophomore Raymond V. Smith of Quincy began to build the device as an undergraduate physics project and ended up taking it to a meeting of the American Institute of Physics and ended up taking it to a meeting of the American Institute of Physics in New York where it won a merit award worth $50 to each of them.

They borrowed a laser, lenses, mirrors, a $200 high-speed motor and a $1,200 oscilloscope to build the machine. "These are pieces of equipment available in almost any college lab," Edmons said.

The device shines the laser beam, a highly concentrated form of light, down a hallway 600 meters long where a mirror reflects it back. Photo cells at each end detect the departure and return of the beam.
